BRITISH PREMIER SAILS FOR U. S. SEPT. 28

GETS HOOVER VIEWS ON TOPIC OF CRUISER TONNAGE

PRESIDENT FILES HIS ANSWER TO THE BRITISH VIEW-POINT

EVERY PROSPECT FOR FINAL
NAVAL AGREEMENT WHICH HAS LONG BEEN SOUGHT

London, Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald will sail for the United States aboard the Berengaria on Sept. 28, it was announced officially today.

The announcement was made after Charles G. Dawes, United States ambassador to London, had called on Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald and delivered President Hoover's answer to the British viewpoint on the respective cruiser demands of the two countries. The conference lasted about an hour.

It was said authoritatively the difference between the British and United States' viewpoints was so small that there was every prospect for the final naval agreement which has been long sought.

London, Sept. 12.—Ambassador Charles G. Dawes today delivered President Hoover's message on cruiser tonnage to Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald at a conference at the premier's residence at No. 10 Downing Street.

London, Sept. 12.—A conference between United States Ambassador Charles G. Dawes and Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald, at which Dawes was expected to deliver President Hoover's views on cruiser tonnage, was announced today.

The spokesman for the American embassy said Dawes and MacDonald would confer "late in the afternoon" at No. 10 Downing Street, the premier's residence. It was said the exact hour for the conference had not been set. The American embassy was understood to be decoding President Hoover's message, and the conference awaited completion of the work.

Washington, Sept. 12.—President Hoover's rejoinder to British suggestions as to the tonnage level at which British and American cruiser fleets should be fixed has been sent to Ambassador Dawes, Secretary of State Stimson said today.

Stimson said no information could be given as to the contents of the communication until a reply is received from London.

6 LOS ANGELES POLICE OFFICERS ARE INDICTED

NAMED BY HARRY McDONALD,
SELF-STYLED BEER KING
IN EXPOSE

TELLS GRAND JURY OF A HUGE
LIQUOR PROTECTION RING OPERATING

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Six Los Angeles police officers, named by Harry McDonald, self-styled beer king, in his expose of a huge liquor protection ring, were indicted by the county grand jury last night.

Three of the officers, Patrolman Thomas E. Washburn, Patrolman Leonard F. Sale and Sergeant Harry M. Hill, were taken into custody today. The other three whose names were withheld were still sought.

McDonald made his startling accusations when, despite his boast that he was the man who could not be arrested in Los Angeles, the city police took him into custody on a liquor charge. He is at liberty under $10,000 bond.

McDonald told District Attorney Burton Fitts that 52 Los Angeles police officers and several underworld figures had made his camouflaged Turkish bath house headquarters of their ring and, incidentally, had "bled" him of $500,000 in five years.

C., noted temperance advocate of the Methodist church, in an address before the 94th annual Michigan Methodist Ministers' conference here last night.

Flames Roar In Vast Forest Areas of 2 States

SENATOR SHIPSTEAD WILL TAKE UP HIS DUTIES IN DECEMBER

Minneapolis, Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Suntanned and apparently cured of the illness which forced him out of public life six months ago, Senator Henrik Shipstead, farmer-laborer of Minnesota, revealed here today that he would again take up his duties in Washington in December. Shipstead, who by the death of Rep. O. J. Kvale, Benson, Minn., became the only farmer-laborer in congress, said he felt fit to return to Washington at once but had been advised by his physicians to spend the fall at rest in his northern Minnesota resort.

Dr. N. H. Scheldrup ascribed Shipstead's illness to an infection of the muscles of the heart, the kidneys and the entire nervous system, caused by a wind blown germ, termed the most deadly of disease known to medicine since the world war.

SIFTING ASHES AT THE BURNED KVALE COTTAGE

OTTERTAIL AUTHORITIES DE-TERMINED TO REVEAL ALL CIRCUMSTANCES OF DEATH

CORONER BELIEVES CONGRESS-MAN WAS "BURNED TO DEATH IN SLEEP"

Fergus Falls, Minn., Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Determined to reveal all the circumstances surrounding his death, Ottetail county authorities today sifted the ashes of the summer cottage from which the body of Congressman C. J. Kvale, of the Seventh Minnesota district was recovered Wednesday.

Coroner J. G. Vigen had earlier announced no inquest would be held in the 60-year-old congressman's death as it was evident he had been "trapped in the cabin and burned to death in his sleep." The body was identified by Coroner Vigen and Dr. I. T. Kvale of Willmar, a son, by two teeth.

Ruined effects of the man who defeated Andrew J. Volstead for congress in 1920 were discovered in the debris of the cottage but a diamond ring he was known to have worn was not found. It was expected to be recovered from the ashes today.

Kvale's body was brought to a mortuary here today and was later to be removed to his home at Benson, Minn., where funeral services will be held, probably Sunday. Members of the family announced the funeral services will probably be held at 2 p. m. Sunday from Our Savior's Lutheran church at Benson.

Rev. M. O. Andrews, pastor of the church an old friend of the Kvale family will officiate. Rev. Andrews succeeded Kvale as pastor of the Benson church when the congressman gave up the ministry on entering politics in 1923.

It was believed today that the sleeping lotion Dr. Kvale said his father may have taken to bring sleep did not even indirectly cause his death. It was pointed out that he probably would have been overcome by smoke and burned to death before awakening, even if he did not take the drug.

Explosion of a kerosene lamp which sent blazing oil flying throughout the cabin, was held responsible for the fatal fire. The congressman was believed to have fallen asleep while reading, leaving the old-fashioned lamp alight.

Dr. Kvale advanced the opinion that his father found it impossible to sleep during the early hours Tuesday night and after taking a portion of the sleeping powders lay down to read on the cot upon which his body was found.

The son declared his father had suffered from insomnia since the death of his wife in 1926 and had sometimes resorted to sleeping powders to obtain rest.

The last hours of the congressman's life were reviewed today by citizens of Fergus Falls who noticed him on the streets here Tuesday, he was known to have left late in the afternoon for the family summer cottage and to have stopped in the evening at the home of a tenant on his farm on the shore of Ottetail lake.

Kvale later went to his cottage and about midnight persons who lived about five miles from the isolated cabin said they saw flames in the distance but believed it was only the burning of a straw stack.

The congressman had been at his resort since Sunday.

Democratic Party to Fight For Competitive Tariff, Abandons Tariff For Revenue Only

CONSIDER COST OF PRODUCTION HOME AND ABROAD

SENATOR FURNIFOLD SIMMONS
OPENS DEBATE ON REPUB-LICAN BILL

CLAIMS G. O. P. TARIFF BILL WILL RAISE COST OF LIVING AND DO FARMER NO GOOD

Washington, Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—The democratic party has progressed from the old theory of tariff for revenue only and will fight now for a competitive tariff based upon the difference of cost of production at home and abroad, Senator Furnifold Simmons of North Carolina, the democratic tariff spokesman, told the senate today in opening formal debate on the pending republican $600,000,000 tariff bill.

The slight frame of the North Carolina senator, who fought his party's presidential nominee, Gov. Smith, in the last campaign, shook as he denounced the republican bill, a measure which, he said, would raise the cost of living and do the farmer no good.

The republicans, Simmons said, have advanced from the theory of a protective tariff to a position of practical exclusion of foreign products which new theory, Simmons contended, was exemplified in the pending bill.

Simmons left no doubt that he intended to speak for the party in propounding his tariff philosophy. "I do not want, and the party does not want, to see any American industry swamped by foreign competition," he said, before a senate chamber crowded to hear the first set speech on tariff.

"But it does not wish to build a wall around this country so high as to practically shut off importation of foreign products and at the same time cut off or unduly restrict the exportation of American products."

Simmons said the republican bill was framed to meet the requests of big corporations for higher rates so they might build up more solid monopolies in the United States. The farm rates are merely an excuse because so few farm products are imported into this country. He called the farm rates "fake rates" and "quack duties," which would be "useless and ineffective."

"I am opposed to this bill because it discriminates against the great mass of American consumers in favor of the already over-protected industries," he continued, "because it will raise the excessive rates of the present law to a basis in many instances but little short of absolute prohibition and exclusive of competitive products from abroad; because it will greatly increase the tariff taxes now paid by the people in the prices paid in the purchase of industrial products while they but increase the annual burden of tariff taxation imposed upon the consuming masses not thousands or millions but billions of dollars; because it will increase the cost of living, already abnormally high and encourage further monopolization and price fixing in the over-protected industries."

SURVEY TO GET COST OF 9-FOOT RIVER CHANNEL

Minneapolis, Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—A survey to determine the cost of a 9-foot channel in the upper Mississippi has been pushed vigorously and no subordinate matters will be allowed to interfere with it, Secretary of War Good has informed Senator Henrik Shipstead. The farmer-labor senator, who had lost touch somewhat with public affairs during his recent illness, asked Good for a report on the survey.

Shipstead said he had been informed efforts had been made in certain quarters to hamper or delay the survey.

FREIGHTER LASHED BY HEAVY GALES IS NOW BREAKING UP

OCEANIC AND ORIENTAL CO.'S
"GOLDEN FOREST" AGROUND
ON ALASKAN COAST

STRANDED AT NORTH SHORE OF SHELKOF STRAITS SINCE
SEPTEMBER 5

Kodiak, Alaska, Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Lashed by terrific gales and pounded by heavy seas, the Oceanic and Oriental Company's freighter Golden Forest was breaking up today on the north shore of Shelkof Straits, near Katmai Volcano where she grounded on September 5.

In answer to a call for assistance, the U. S. coastguard cutter Haida, en route to Cordova with a member of her crew seriously ill, changed her course toward the wreck.

The wrecked freighter carries a crew of 37. Salvage ships standing by are believed to have transferred some of the crew, but how many is not known. The vessel is rated as a total loss.

LONE ARMED BANDIT HOLDS UP BANK AT MEIRE GROVE TODAY

ESCAPES WITH LOOT OF $1,000
FROM MEIRE GROVE STATE BANK

MAKES GETAWAY IN A FORD
COUPE; TOWN IS NEAR
SAUK CENTER

Sauk Center, Minn., Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—A lone, armed bandit today held up the Meire Grove State Bank at Meire Grove near here and escaped with loot estimated at $1,000.

The bandit, described as slightly built, entered the bank about 10:30 A. M., ordered Cashier Edward Ortman to hold up his hands and then scooped up all the loose currency in sight.

Escape was made in a Ford coupe. Police in nearby towns were notified of the robbery and a search for the bandit was begun at once.

Ortmann was alone in the bank when the youthful bandit made his daring attack.

First he ordered the cashier to "hold 'em up," but then he changed his command to "push all that dough over to me."

Ortmann did as he was commanded and the youth said scornfully, "Is that all you got?"

"That's all we have here now," Ortmann answered. "We have our money sent in from Minneapolis as we need it."

The young, well dressed bandit then told Ortmann to get into the vault, which contained considerable money.

Overlooked by the youth, and the fellow drove away in the direction of Melrose.

Ortmann worked his way out of the vault in a few moments and sounded the alarm.

LEGAL TANGLE THREATENS TO DEFEAT LAW

AIM OF ROBIN HOOD SCHEME OF WAGGONER OF TELLURIDE,
COLO., MAY SUCCEED

LATTER DECLARES IT WAS MO-
TIVE FOR $500,000 SWINDLE
EXECUTED IN WALL ST.

New Castle, Wyo., Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Legal entanglements threatened today to defeat the law itself and accomplish the aim of the Robin Hood scheme which Charles Delos Waggoner, Telluride, Colo., bank president, contends was the motive for the $500,000 swindle he executed in Wall Street.

Conflict between state and federal authorities and the banking laws may end in the retention by the Telluride bank of the $500,000 which the "hill billy" bank president obtained on faked telegrams from six New York banks. In such case, there were indications that Waggoner's scheme of stealing from the eastern concerns to repay his depositors' losses might be completed despite his arrest and possible imprisonment.

Waggoner's plot, according to his confession, was based on a desire to make eastern interests pay for the losses of his investors, which he said was brought about by the closing down of large mines in the Telluride district, owned by the eastern interests and the withdrawal of deposits by the owners of the mining properties.

There appears to be widespread fear that Waggoner has perpetrated the "perfect financial crime." Money that the "shabby western banker" got in the effort east now reposes, and, with a certain amount of security for the present, in his depository at Telluride, where he says he hopes to see it paid out to depositors and other creditors who were "hard hit when the bottom fell out of things down there."

Lawyers who have been asked if Waggoner's scheme was not "perfect," admit there is a strong possibility the New York banks may never regain their money.

CHINESE, CZARIST RUSSIAN TROOPS IN HEAVY LOSSES

HAVE SEVERAL ENGAGEMENTS
WITH RED ARMY ON MAN-
CHURIAN FRONTIER

ANOTHER BATTLE REPORTED ON WESTERN FRONT NEAR MANCHULI

Moscow, Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Chinese and Czarist Russian troops suffered heavy casualties in several engagements with Red army forces on the eastern Manchurian frontier on Tuesday, it was understood here today.

The report said there had been an engagement on the western front also, near Manchuli, and that Soviet troops scored victories in all engagements. Many White Russians (Czarists) were reported to have been captured.

The newspaper Izvestia, in one of the strongest editorials it has printed since breaking off of relations between Russia and China, said:

"The Chinese militarists will have the strongest proof of the determination and ability of the Soviets to prevent further provocative raids on Soviet territory."

Mukden, Sept. 12.—An official communique today said the Chinese had repulsed another Soviet attack early today near Suifen-Ho.

The Soviets attacked with artillery, machine guns and airplanes and the battle lasted three hours, the communique said.

Russian airplanes were said to have bombed Manchuli Wednesday night, wrecking a wool factory and severing communication lines. Numerous smaller attacks were reported from border points.

CARRY TERROR, LEAVE NOTHING BUT DESTRUCTION

WORST FIRE IN PACIFIC NORTH-WEST NOW AT TRIANGLE
LAKE, OREGON

A NEW FLARE-UP OF FIRE IN COLEVILLE NATIONAL FOR-EST IN WASHINGTON

Portland, Ore., Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Carrying terror before it and leaving nothing but destruction in its wake, flames roared over vast areas of Oregon and Washington today.

The worst fire in the Pacific northwest is raging at Triangle Lake, western Lake county, Oregon, where every man, woman, child and creature fled before the singeing, menacing flames of a forest fire burning out of control.

Recruits are being sent from Spokane to enforce the 350 men fighting the conflagration, which has already spread over 35,000 acres.

Another fire burning along a two-mile front swept down the Camas valley between Roseburg and Cvo Bay today. More than 100 men are fighting this blaze.

A new flare-up of the fire in Coleville national forest in Washington, near the Canadian boundary is momentarily expected by fire wardens, who are watching the blaze carefully. Numerous smaller fires are reported.

POLITICIAN IS MURDERED IN CHICAGO

CHARLES S. BROWN KIDNAPED,
TORTURED AND SHOT
TO DEATH

APPARENTLY HAD BEEN TOR-TURED FOR SEVERAL HOURS

Chicago, Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Ten days after the murder of his political opponent, Charles S. Brown, 35-year-old ward leader, was kidnaped, tortured and shot to death last night.

Brown's body, the skull pierced by a dozen bullets, was thrown to the street from an automobile on the west side shortly before midnight. Deep gashes on the forehead and bruises on the body indicated the politician had been tortured for several hours.

Police said the bullets apparently were fired into the man's head as he lay on the floor of the touring car pleading with his captors.

Brown was a precinct captain for Alderman Dorsey Crowe in the forty-second ward during the last aldermanic election. Henry Connors, the forty-second ward leader for Richard R. Pendergast, Alderman Crowe's opponent, was assassinated ten days ago in a north side cafe.

Police were convinced Brown's murder was in direct retaliation for the Connors death. Pendergast, himself, told police that enemies made by his political activities probably accounted for Connors' death.

Several persons heard the shots that killed Brown and saw his body tossed from the rear of the touring car into the street. Brown's friends had not seen him since early afternoon, leading to the belief that he had been kidnapped and carried on a torture ride for several hours before he was killed.

The slain man had been in politics only a short time. In addition to his political activities, he was a carnival worker, operating small fairs for church and club groups.

CHARGED WITH DRIVING WHILE HE WAS INTOXICATED

EARL BILLINGS OF HASTINGS HELD IN CONNECTION WITH MOTOR CAR ACCIDENT

Hastings, Minn., Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Charged with driving while intoxicated, Earl Billings, held in connection with a motor car accident in which a 19-year-old St. Paul boy was killed and three other persons were injured, was to be taken in custody today by Sheriff Joseph E. Wechman of Scott county.

Billings was to be returned to Shakopee, Minn., where County Attorney Harry Riwin was expected to serve him with a warrant charging manslaughter. The drunken driving complaint was issued at Shakopee early today.

The accident occurred early Wednesday when Billings, returning to Minneapolis from a party, was said to have purposely struck a sign board while travelling 60 miles an hour. Elmer Jensen, 19, of St. Paul was fatally injured and two sisters of Jensen slightly hurt.

Billings disappeared after the accident but was arrested.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

September 12, 1904

Mrs. James Plummer of 412 Bluff avenue South, who died September 8, was buried yesterday afternoon from the Baptist church, Rev. Walker officiating. The interment was in Evergreen cemetery. Mrs. Plummer was a lady of about 53 years of age and has been a resident of Brainerd about ten years, coming here with her husband from Clinton, Minn. She has been a great sufferer with some stomach trouble which baffled the physicians. She leaves a husband and five children to mourn her death.

Jim Hill, a plain drunk, was fined $7.40 in municipal court today. He did not have the needful and rather than board him the judge suspended the sentence on the condition that he leave the city at once.

A badly cut horse by a barb wire fence in East Brainerd was all the foundation there was to a report that a man had been stabbed to death yesterday in that portion of the city. The blood shed by the injured animal led some person to concoct the story of the stabbing to fool the unwary.

The official weather record shows for the past 24 hours a minimum temperature of 34 degrees, but Jack Frost got out last night nevertheless, and touched up the tomatoes and cucumber vines in good shape.

To judge from the number of men carrying home guns and ammunition Sunday night the prairie chickens had a larger male congregation than the preachers Sunday.

Julius Deering, formerly employed with Slipp Brothers in the capacity of tinner, has accepted a position with Hawkins, Welch and Hawkins. The new firm has had a tin shop fitted up in the upstairs of the Koop building, over their store room and are now ready for work in that line.

FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

FRED HALVERSON ON TRIAL FOR SLAYING STATE HIGH- WAY PATROLMAN

Erie, Pa., Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Fred Halverson of Minneapolis, Minn., on trial here since Monday for the murder of Russell Swanson, state highway patrolman, last April, was found guilty late last night of voluntary manslaughter and sentence on him was deferred. Under the verdict he may receive from five to 10 years imprisonment.

Halverson stated he was satisfied with the verdict. His sister was with him in court when the verdict was brought in. Sam Bard, 39, also of Minneapolis, who confessed the actual shooting, will go on trial today and the trial of Joe Invie also of Minneapolis, will follow that of Bard.

Because Bard had no funds for his defense, Robert Firman, a former district attorney was appointed by the court. Bard's father, William Bard, a carpenter of Flint, Mich., is here for his son's trial.

EFFORTS MADE TO PAROLE STEPHENSON

Munice, Ind., Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—Efforts to obtain a 60 day parole for D. C. Stephenson, former Indiana Ku-Klux-Klan official, now serving a life sentence for murder of an Indianapolis girl, will be made here today, according to Clarence E. Benadum, Stephenson's attorney.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 12.—(U.P.)—A careful analysis was made today of samples of all food and water consumed by the family of W. V. Tyrell preceding a strange sickness that attacked five of them. Doctors believed all but one was recovering.

That one was 4 year old David who apparently took more of the poisoning substance than the others. He died within a few hours.

Summer Months Hard on Stomach Sufferers

Quick, Natural Relief from Simple Herbal Compound

How much suffering a weak stomach can cause! Painful gas, bloating, sleeplessness, loss of weight—vigor. Bad enough at any time, but when exhausting summer heat is added, strength is drained from the sturdiest body.

But here is one of many thousands who found a way to relief: Mrs. C. A. Warner, of 502 First St. South, Aberdeen, S. D., says: "I suffered so from indigestion, kidney trouble and complete breakdown that I was in misery. Tanlac brought wonderful relief and soon had me eating everything. That tired, run-down feeling was over."

It's never too late to try Tanlac. So go to your druggist now and get a bottle. No mineral drugs—only Nature's own medicinal herbs, but its efficacy is so apparent that often only one bottle is needed to bring desired relief. Money back if it doesn't help.

THEATRE TO HAVE ENGLISH CREATION

New Show House Here to Be Designed in Old English Tavern Architecture

HILLER ADDRESSES LIONS

Theatre Atmosphere to Include Floating Clouds and Stars; to Open in December

W. R. Hiller, manager of Public theatres in Brainerd, told the Lions Club last evening that the new theatre here would be designed in old English tavern architecture and that an effect of floating clouds and stars would be created to harmonize.

"The theatre will be a credit to Brainerd and the district. Its construction will fulfill the high requirements of a theatre as demanded by such a large enterprising concern as the Paramount-Public Corporation," he said, "no theatre in the northwest will be more modernly equipped than the local theatre when complete."

Mr. Hiller promised that the theatre opening would take place during the Christmas holiday season.

The building will be of fireproof construction throughout. It will have a maximum seating capacity of 900 with all seats on the main floor, there being no balcony.

Dimensions including the new part will be 139 feet by 65 feet, the new addition to be 25 feet by 65 feet and will include a foyer, lobby, rest rooms, office and ticket booths.

Entrance will be on the east side with the main exits there also.

The generator and battery rooms will be installed on the second floor with the boiler room and fresh air fan room in the basement of the new addition.

Fresh air, heated as it is brought in, will be distributed throughout the building every three minutes. Foul air will be taken out from under the stage by machinery.

The stage will be 16 feet by 55 feet and 40 feet in height.

The floors will be of cement slab. Unique illuminating light effects will add to the atmospheric beauty of the theatre. The canopy alone will have 1,578 lamps.

The total investment by the Public Theatres when the new theatre is complete will be $150,000, Mr. Hiller said.

Current releases of the best talkies at the same time they are being shown in metropolitan areas will be shown here.

A Western Electric talking equipment, the most expensive on the market will be installed. The equipment will cost $20,000, the speaker said.

Fire Prevention Week

By proclamation of the President and the Governors of the various States, one week each year is known as "Fire Prevention Week." This year, the days from October 6 to 12, inclusive, will be so observed. This observance serves principally as a symbol for what every citizen should do the year round in the exercise of fire prevention methods and in protecting his family and his property against fire.

Fire Prevention Week serves to emphasize the need of safeguards. It more or less dramatizes the constant efforts that are being made by states, municipalities, stock fire insurance companies, and various organizations and individuals to reduce the national fire waste, which amounts to approximately $500,000,000 annually. However, the lessons learned during the week; the advice given; the precautions stressed by newspapers, public speakers, posters and other publicity means should be applied during the fifty-two weeks of every year.

There should be no occasion to say that for seven days Fire Prevention Week brings beneficial results, but that during the balance of the year the people lapse into careless practices. Every week must be Fire Prevention Week, if this country is to further reduce its terrific sacrifice to fire, a sacrifice which not only involves close to half a billion dollars of property values, but which exacts the still greater penalty of some ten thousand lives snuffed out through causes which, in nearly every instance, are easily preventable. This loss of human life, which cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents, means that society has been deprived of lives which otherwise would have been contributed to the progress and prosperity of the community.

The proclamation of the President and of the various Governors should be supplemented daily by a determination on the part of every good citizen to keep the spirit of Fire Prevention Week alive from its last day to the first day of the next. Whether we, as a community, shall be more or less efficient in safeguarding its values, its progress and its prosperity depends upon how thoroughly each individual does his duty.

Duck Calling

THERE are various kinds of callers these days, hog callers, moose callers, duck callers, etc.

The hog callers have become so numerous that they have held contests to see whose voice carried the longest distance. The moose callers are most numerous in Canada.

Here in our neighborhood the duck caller who can really draw ducks to his vicinity is worth his weight in gold. The man whose golden tones will reach the duck and in real duck language say, "Come hither, big mallard or drake," has an untold advantage in getting a good shot at a flock.

All manners of devices are used in the hunting season to attract the duck, wooden decoys, cork decoys, live ducks, etc. Carl Wright and a friend were at a pass the other day, practicing duck calls, but the best Carl could do was to get a frightened quack out of one duck which winged its way as fast as it could from and not to Carl. This evening they expect a salesman from Chicago who has learned the duck language and says he can hold a regular conversation with a flock inquiring about the feed, weather, rice beds, and other gossip carried on by a duck crowd. He so ingratiates himself into the confidence of the ducks that they fly over to him, expecting to meet some noted drake in the duck world.

He says the ducks speak various dialects depending on where they have received their primary school training. The Canadian ducks all have a different accent than the American ducks. A native farm duck has a different squawk than his wild brother. The wild bird is very sensitive in matters of speech and has an ear which immediately detects a wrong note, and so notifies the whole flock which wheels away to safety.

Pave East and West

For a number of years Duluth has been trying to achieve the permanent improvement of state highway No. 2. This trunk highway extends east and west entirely across Minnesota from Duluth to Moorhead, thence to Fargo and North Dakota points.

Driving out of Duluth the paving may be followed to Carlton. From there the road is gravel and not in the best of condition. In fact the road is usually in poor condition in spite of the money spent upon it for upkeep and maintenance.

Traffic on highway No. 2 is heavy enough to warrant paving it, but it is not nearly as heavy as it would be if it were paved. When tourists or other motorists reach Brainerd from the west, they have a choice of two roads. One is a broad concrete paved road all the way to the Twin Cities over highways No. 27 and No. 3.

The other is a graveled road of questionable character leading to Duluth, the Head of the Lakes and the Arrowhead country. Duluth and all communities along highway No. 2 should join in demanding the paving of this road. Even though it does not touch the Twin Cities, this is an important highway and paving it would benefit a large territory and a great number of people.

Paving a road throughout the length of the state has been pushed vigorously. Now the time has come when a road across the state from east to west should be paved. Highway No. 2 should be the next major project of the state department.—Duluth News Tribune.

What the New Theater Means to Brainerd

PROGRESS is being made in the erection of the new theater which is expected to open its doors to cater to the holiday season the end of this year.

The theater will have a seating capacity of about 900. To fill the playhouse will require theatergoers of Brainerd plus patronage from outside towns. It is expected to cater to the theater going public not only of Brainerd but to towns and communities within a 50 mile radius.

The Publix-Paramount theater will bring trade to Brainerd. Other lines of business will share in the prosperity brought to town by the matinee and night shows.

It means much to the city of Brainerd when a nationally known organization like Publix-Paramount is cooperating to make Brainerd known throughout a large district as the center of high class amusement and entertainment.

Just as the Minnesota draws crowds to Minneapolis, so will the Publix-Paramount theater attract people to Brainerd.

Blue Blood And Red

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Eddie Regan, once a member of a New York gang, has escaped to Virginia, where he meets Marian Thorndike, Bernice Veressi, "gang girl," who is in love with Eddie, is forgotten in Eddie's dreams of Marian. Penfield Partridge, last member of an aristocratic Southern family, whom Eddie befriends, dies and leaves Eddie all his possessions. Eddie declares his love to Marian, but she discourages him. She is thrown from her horse, and Tom Freeman, searching for her, finds her in Eddie's house, where she has gone for help. He takes her home, and the next day Marian sends a note of thanks to Eddie for taking care of her. He goes to call on her, and the door is opened by her father.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XVII.

"THIS one," she said, picking up a volume, "I think is the best thing I have read this year."

How different she was from any other girl on earth. She lived in a world of books and finer things of life than his own kind of girls did. There were taste and discrimination and definite choosing between fine things and gross things that implied the highest development of intelligence and good breeding. And the doors of understanding, he realized, were locked against him. But Marian held the key and, if she so desired, could reveal to him hidden treasures beyond the grasp of his present imagination. He marveled at the wonder of it and gasped. He could hardly believe that a few nights before she had been in his arms, and that their lips had clung warmly together.

Despite his effort to keep his mind off those past moments of delight he was unable to stop reviewing the miraculous episode that had occurred. He looked at her lips now and could not help yearning for them again. His delight in looking at her was unbounded; she was not made of the same common clay as other girls.

But even as he talked with her and secretly craved a repetition of past delight he knew that she was as far away as ever—that he would not have the chance under any conceivable circumstances to strive for those magic lips again. She was simply beyond him and he was amazed at the effrontery of his dream—at his own daring in thinking he might ever bring the shine of love into those exquisite blue eyes.

On the other hand, it was not within his power to know how warm a flame his masculine gaze generated in Marian Thorndike. With her, the art of covering emotion was an instinct bred of upbringing and tradition. True, she was modern in an intelligent sense, but she was not the kind to reveal her innermost feelings. But she was in a greater degree sensitive, and for that reason more than any other, perhaps, she had cultivated an exterior calmness that was rarely shaken.

A negro woman brought them tea and small cakes on a silver tray; a low maple table was placed between them and Marian served him with cool, slender fingers.

"Do you take cream in your tea?" Anyway you fix it will be great."

She smiled. "I'll fix it like I

Freeman Interrupts the Tea Party.

do my own."

He could have blessed her for that. She was so pleasant to him that he resolved to find out the truth about her father's feelings toward him. If he had been mistaken about the old man's attitude it would be a needless burden to carry the mistake around in his own mind.

"I wonder if I could get the low-down from you on something that's worrying me a little?" he asked. "You remember how your father felt against Mr. Partridge?"

She nodded. "Yes, I remember." "Well, I've been wondering if maybe he didn't still hold hard feelings against anything and everything connected with Mr. Partridge. I came into this county a stranger not long ago and he took me up as he would his own child and left all to me just as though I was his own. Of course, the property isn't so valuable, but the principle of the thing is the way I came to it. I wonder if your father didn't kinda link me up in his mind with Mr. Partridge and figure that I inherited the grudge between them along with the rest of the stuff. Maybe he has said something to you about it."

Marian didn't answer at once. She was absorbed in trying to realize that behind his manner of speech—so different from her own—she had a mind and a nature, however uncultivated, that was strongly akin to her own idea of how a man should properly talk and feel.

"My father hasn't said anything to me about it," she said, slowly. "But I know how his mind works. I am afraid he does hold a prejudice against you. When he learned of my accident he was not pleased. You know my father is an old-fashioned Southerner and we are living in an isolated, provincial community. We don't know a great deal about the outside world and you have no idea how likes and dislikes grow here in the backwoods. It just happens that in all parts of the county the people make a fetish of pride—perhaps pride and family pride. None of us have much money so we have to have something that seems important. We call it pride but I think for the most part it is utter silliness."

"I think I know what you mean," Eddie said. "They take to pride a good deal like the average people take to toothache."

She did not smile at this sally.

"I'm sorry my father does feel so bitterly against everything connected with Penfield Partridge. The feud started years ago—before I was born. I don't know what they quarreled about and probably father doesn't either. If they had been young men they would have beaten each other and fought it out with pistols; so you see, it isn't likely that my father is going to shout with joy at the mention of your name."

"The servant came in the room. 'Mr. Tom Freeman is calling,' she said."

A slight flame came to Marian's face and Eddie, unhappily, imagined it was a signal of pleasure. Tom Freeman came into the room and Eddie felt that his thrillingly pleasant afternoon with Marian was ended. As Marian rose to greet Tom, Eddie got up also. For him, he had the barest nod of his head and a muttered "Hello."

OLD RAJAH IS AGAIN THE HERO OF ALL CHICAGO FANDOM

HORNSBY SHOWS MCMILLAN AND ENGLISH HOW TO HIT

NOT THE SLIGHTEST HINT OF TROUBLE BETWEEN HORNSBY AND REST OF TEAM

RAJAH AS WELL AS HACK WILSON RECEIVE IDOLIZING ATTENTION OF FANS
By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Sept. 12.—The old Rajah again is the hero.

When Rogers Hornsby came to the Chicago Cubs last spring, he was greeted with a sort of indifferent attitude, the tone of which was:

"Well, Rogers, we've heard about you and know you're a great ball player, but we've also heard you're a trouble-maker. We're glad to have you and we'll reserve judgment until later."

Then the fans continued to idolize Hack Wilson. Where Hornsby got a mild smattering of applause when he went to the plate, Wilson received a tremendous ovation. That continued for the first half of the season. Then the Hornsby acclaim began to broaden slightly.

There were no reports of any dissension on the club and Rogers certainly was playing great ball. The fans were willing to give credit where credit was due but they still were far from ready to idolize Hornsby.

Then the report got out telling how Hornsby had worked for hours showing Noman McMillan how to hit. As a result of the teaching, McMillan now stands at the plate exactly as Hornsby does and he is hitting the ball as he never did before.

Then the fans began to notice the remarkable improvement in the play of Woody English and it took but little observation to see that Hornsby was responsible.

There hasn't been the slightest hint of trouble between Rogers and the rest of the team.

So they idolize Rogers here now—idolize the man they made prove to them that he merited acclaim. And if you don't think they do, ask the ground-keepers who have had to put in two or three minutes picking up straw hats every time Rogers has strode to the plate in the past few games.

4 FINE TENNIS

PLAYERS ARE FACING DEFEAT

MEN'S SINGLES CHAMPIONSHIP REACHES QUARTER-FINAL ROUND

WEST SIDE TENNIS CLUB IS THE SCENE OF THE INTEREST- ING CONTEST

By WILLIAM J. DUNN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Four fine tennis players were doomed to defeat today as the men's national singles championship reached the quarter-final round at the West Side Tennis Club.

Seven Americans and one Briton remained on the 90 representatives of six nations who started play last Saturday, and every one of the eight was entitled to consideration as a championship possibility.

First there was Big Bill Tilden, colorful and dramatic champion from 1920 through 1925, who faced John Van Ryn, a most able player from East Orange, N. J. Tilden is aging, but he still controls enough shots to make himself the most feared man in the tournament and the favorite for the title.

John Doeg, of Santa Monica, Calif., faced his hardest assignment of the tournament in Bunny Austin, Britain's leading player. Austin has been mentioned frequently as a possible successor to Henri Cochet as the American title-holder.

In the lower bracket Wilmer Allison has succeeded George Lott as a logical favorite through a merited victory over Lott in the third round. He plays Fritz Mercur today.

Frank Hunter, the brawny newspaper publisher, and R. Norris Williams, the only other champion in competition, are the seventh and eighth.

Grabowski, Cardinal rookie hurler from Danville, fanned five in his initial major league effort.

With all the scoring packed into the first inning, the Philadelphia Athletics beat the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 4, and moved to within four games of mathematical certainty of winning the pennant. Lefty Grove failed to last an inning.

The New York Giants cut the Pittsburgh second place lead to 4½ games by taking both games of a double-header, 2 to 1, and 10 to 5.

TY COBB GIVES OUT PREDICTION ON WORLD SERIES

SAYS CHICAGO TEAM AFRAID OF PITCHERS WITH FAST, SIZZLING BALL

"IT'S MEANEST JOB IN WORLD TO MANAGE BALL CLUB," SAYS GEORGIA PEACH

By STEWART BROWN
London, Sept. 12.—The Philadelphia Athletics are going to trounce the Chicago Cubs in the coming world's series because the Cubs are afraid of pitchers who can put over a sizzling fast ball, Ty Cobb said today in an interview with the United Press.

Cobb, who has been having the greatest difficulty explaining to British newspaper men what the game of baseball is all about, said he was considering two offers to become president of National League clubs. He has not decided, however, whether he wants to return to baseball or spend the rest of his life traveling and hunting.

"I am sure of one thing," the Georgia Peach declared, "even if I was starving to death, I would never manage another ball club. It's the meanest job in the world."

Cobb last played with the Athletics. That was in 1927. Before that he was manager of the Detroit Tigers. Last year Cobb was supposed to manage the Baltimore team in the International League, but he did not go through with the deal.

"I have been traveling on the continent for three months with my family in order to see if I can forget all about baseball," Ty said today. "I am happy to say I had such a good time seeking Europe's wonders I hardly cared whether I saw more than the mere results of the major league games at home."

Cobb said he was sorry the cricket season had closed in England for he wanted to see a match. However, he thought cricket would be too slow a game to be very interesting.

"Baseball is America's greatest character trait," he declared. "Baseball taught Americans initiative, quick thinking and democracy. That's why we are striding ahead of the rest of the world."

Cobb took occasion to deplore the "over-commercialization" of baseball, declaring it was the public's right to have sport and not business.

In order to promote baseball in London, Cobb will give a short demonstration of the tactics of the game here Saturday. After that he will go to Keith, Scotland, to shoot grouse as the guest of Isaac Sharpe, returning to New York aboard the Bremen, which sails the 26th.

HUNTERS REHEARSE CALLS TO ATTRACT DUCKS SEPTEMBER 16

A medley of quacking became a popular greeting in Brainerd this week as duck hunters rehearsed duck calls for the opening of the season on September 16.

On many of the passes, marshes, and rice laden lakes can be seen early in the morning and at dusk many prospective hunters gazing skyward and practicing calls to determine their effect. The ducks are fat and plentiful and there is a wistfulness about the hunters as they watch the fowl in flight. Their trigger fingers itch but no shots are fired.

The prospective duck hunters realize that in their ability to accurately imitate the call of one duck to another lies success to bagging a goodly number of ducks.

A. P. Cardle, deputy game warden, said today that not for several years has there been so many flocks in the district as this year. He attributes this partly to the entry of ducks from the Dakotas who came here to feed because of the drying of the marshes in the neighboring states.

The Department of Game and Fish official has kept a close check throughout the county and reports that so far he has had no trouble with pre-season shooters.

Deputy County Auditor Henry Krause reported today that sales of licenses continue briskly.

The Washington Senators slipped into a tie with Detroit for fifth place by a 5 to 2 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

CAMP SMITH, Peekskill, N. Y. Aug. 17th.—I have shared the soldier's cigarette in pretty nearly every corner of the world, and I know how set in his ways an army man can get when it comes to knowing what smoke he likes. So frankly the idea that a two year old cigarette—even if it did have the name OLD GOLD—could win this test over three old time brands seemed unbelievable.

But the thing worked out. At Camp Smith, where I witnessed the test, OLD GOLD put the bee on 506 Yanks of the Old Seventh New York regiment.

The Old Seventh went OLD GOLD with 195 bull's-eyes as against 144 for the next brand, with the two other old timers rating scores of 81 and 86.

What's more, this concealed name test is as square as a regimental parade ground.

KSTP TO BROADCAST FRESHMAN WEEK PLANS

New Students to Minnesota to be Welcomed Sept. 21 in State Wide Radio Party

Final preparations have been made for the Freshman Week radio program to be broadcast over KSTP, St. Paul, Saturday evening, September 21, from 9:15 to 10:15 P. M.

This date comes prior to the opening of Freshman Week, September 23, and was selected by the Freshman Week committee in order to give the freshmen their final instructions before leaving home to start their college work. The broadcast is planned to reach not only those freshmen living in each of the 28 cities of the state where district chairmen are in charge, but also those of the smaller towns sending new students to the University of Minnesota.

This year will be the second that the University has used this form of a "state-wide radio party" to welcome the new students to the campus. The program will continue for 60 minutes during which time all radio listeners and freshmen in particular will hear the welcomes of Dean E. E. Nicholson, in charge of student affairs; Anne Dudley Blitt, dean of women; and Millard McCabe, student chairman of Freshman Week.

Dr. Oscar Burkhard, director of Freshman Week, will give final instructions for Freshman Week to matriculating Freshmen, while Dean Nicholson will tell of some of the problems that will confront new students upon reaching the campus.

Dr. Clarence W. Spears, football, will give some timely topics, while Charlotte Larson will talk in behalf of the Big Sister organization, which is to aid freshmen girls in particular. All matriculating freshmen and their parents should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this program.

Many of them are planning to gather in groups and will hold a freshman rally on the eve of the program. Much information that will be broadcast will be of vital importance and will help the new students materially in making the right beginning at the University.

Besides instructive talks, the program will contain many entertaining features. John Grill, rooster king, will give some of the Minnesota yells and will give interesting sidelights on Minnesota songs and traditions. The Minnesota pledge song, which every freshman should learn, will be sung.

Words of the song can be found inside the back cover of the Freshman Week handbook, which will be received by every freshman in the state.

Other entertaining features will include musical numbers by David Westlund, winner of the radio contest for collegians held last spring; songs by Alfreda Hagen; selections sung by the Minnesota quartette, and orchestral numbers by the collegians band.

BELL IMPROVEMENT IN CITY TO COST $20,000

New Aerial and Underground Cables to Carry 700 Miles of Wire, H. D. Hoffmann Announces

REPLACE OLD POLES, WIRES

Relief to be Provided at Once to Prevent Congestion in West Central Portion of City

Plans to improve Brainerd's telephone system at an expenditure of about $20,000 have been made, it is announced by Henry D. Hoffmann, manager for the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company. It is hoped that the work can be started in the near future.

More than four miles of aerial and underground cable will be provided. The new cables will carry about 700 miles of wire. In addition to this work, those poles and wires which have nearly reached the end of their service life will be removed and 300 feet of new underground conduit will be laid.

The heavy cable lead crossing the Northern Pacific Railway Company's tracks will be replaced by a much larger cable and placed underground the same as the rest of the cable along Broadway.

The cables serving the west central portion of the city are rapidly being filled and in order to prevent further congestion, the telephone company will provide relief at once, Mr. Hoffmann stated. The new cable will enable the telephone company to continue its policy of furnishing adequate and reliable service to the people of Brainerd.

Included in the improvement plans is also the provision for eliminating a duplicate pole line in the alley between Front and Laurel streets carrying the cables of the Little Falls-Black Duck and Brainerd-Staples long distance lines. This pole line will be removed and the long distance lines will be housed in new cable.

Telephone engineers predict a continuance of the healthy growth in the demand for telephone service here, which also indicates a steady development of the city as a whole. At present there are 2,515 telephones connected to the Brainerd central office.

Now is the time to Can PEACHES

Yakima Elbertas are here in all their ruddy beauty—delicious and juicy-sweet.

Your dealer can deliver them to you now—in any quantity you need. And because of the shortage of other fruits and the prospective high cost of canned fruit this winter, better put up more than you had planned. You'll find these peaches reasonable in price.

And after all, there's nothing quite so good as home-canned peaches—children like them—your whole family will enjoy them and they are a boon when unexpected guests arrive for a meal.

HOW TO PUT UP YAKIMA ELBERTA PEACHES

Modern methods have made home canning easy. Every year finds some new scientific method to make canning a more pleasurable task. The new Hot Pack Method, as described by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture is as follows:

HOT PACK METHOD

This method combines the advantages of the open-kettle and Cold Pack Methods. The fruit has the same texture throughout the year and any bacteria are killed in the pre-cooking process. Remove skins by blanching—(unless ripe enough to do so without this process). Add to boiling syrup—which has been made from ¼ to ¾ cup sugar for each cup of water and has been boiled 5 minutes. Pre cook for 5 minutes at simmering point. Fill container while boiling hot and "paddle" the sides before placing cover on and process immediately. Process for 12 to 15 minutes. Seal immediately. It is not necessary to add extra juice.

This Is the Peak of the Supply

Right now is the peak of the season—in a few days more the supply will begin to lessen, so you should get all that you need for canning as soon as possible.

Seal up the luscious flavor of these lovely, blushing peaches for next winter's enjoyment. You'll want to serve them often this winter.

If it should happen that you've never tried Yakima Elberta peaches, you'll be delighted with them. They are free-stone—rich in color and flavor—good shippers, so that they reach you in fine condition. Can them freely.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose. Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store, Johnson's Pharmacy and Economy Drug Company.
